Upcoming

6/15 At the Cutting Edge: The State of the Art Quilt; recent works by six Philadelphia artists in a range of techniques exemplify the diversity and sophistication of contemporary fabric artists and the fine art of quilting. Varying techniques inspired by graphic design and typography, or using handpainted and dye-painted fabrics, found objects, and recycled every-day materials offer multiple perspectives that reinterpret this ancient tradition. Featuring quilts by Cindy Friedman, Amy Orr, Leslie Pontz, Emily Richardson, Lonni Rossi, and Deborah Schwartzman. Arthur Ross Gallery. Through July 28.
6/16 Garden Railway—Patriots or Traitors: Houses of the Revolutionary War; a miniature world set in the splendor of a summer garden, the display features historic buildings created entirely of natural materials, each meticulously detailed with leaves, bark, vines and twigs. Logs and branches are also used to create unique tunnels and overhead trestles. Nestled among woody plants, colorful annuals and perennials. Grand Opening: June 16; Morris Arboretum. Through October 14.
8/1 POSTERS/POSTERS/POSTERS. Twenty Years of Gallery Graphics; striking graphics by talented students and seasoned graphic designers has been the hallmark of the Arthur Ross Gallery and its brief antecedents since it opened its doors in 1983. The variety of the design communicates the diversity and eclecticism of exhibitions from more than two decades; Arthur Ross Gallery. Through September 8.

8/2 In-House Exhibit—Art by University City Science Center Employees; Artist's Reception: 5-7 p.m.; Esther Klein Art Gallery. Through September 8.
